

CZ2006 Lab Deliverable 1 - Ace It Group

Data Dictionary of EventSG

Term	Definition
Event	An event is a group activity that can be initiated by either individuals or public organizations. An event must have hosts and attendees, and it can be either virtual or physical.
Organization	An organization is a group of people with a particular purpose. It can be a company, an agent or a government department.
Community center	A community center is a place at which community members would gather to host or join activities. Community members usually share a common interest, religion, or identity.
Property	A property refers to a building or land owned by someone. It can be temporarily leased to individuals or organizations for the purpose of hosting an event.
Venue	A venue is the gathering place of an event. It should have detailed location information including postal code, street name, block number, floor number and room number.
Property owner	A property owner is a person who listed his or her properties for renting out.
Participant	A participant of an event is a person who registered for an event.
Rating	A rating refers to a numeric score that's given to an event or property. An event can only be rated by its participants. A property can only be rated by its lessee.
Review	A review is a short text which is given to an event or a property by either individuals or organizations to describe their overall experience during an event or property renting.
Attendance status	There are 2 status of a participant's attendance: attended or absent. It indicates whether a registered user has shown up for the event or not.
Saved event	A saved event is an event which a user would like to follow and may sign up for.